

Spies sent to the promised land returned with many foods.
The promised land was flowing with "milk and honey."